Our Commitment to Service

With over twenty five years of experience in the pool industry, Sergio Atehortua, the owner of Pool City, has what it takes to build your pool. His background in civil engineering and surveying allows him to manage the most challenging projects. From designing to building and servicing, your mind will be at ease knowing that your pool project is being handled by a true professional. Thomas C. Messina, the co-owner of Pool City has worked in the construction field for more than thirty five years, from bridge building to project management. He has not only the knowledge but the experience to ensure your project is completed to perfection. Our premium packages are designed to give you the most for you money, using basic construction principles that have been proven to work.

With two convenient locations, it is easier than ever to build and service your swimming pool. We are a complete service and retail company, ready to help you with all your pool needs for many years to come. Visit any of our locations for a free pool consultation.
